

Join the 1992 Freedom Campaign!

Marrou/Lord Campaign Highlights

Joint Campaign

Following their Labor Day Weekend nomination, Marrou and Lord established a joint campaign with office in Las Vegas, Nevada.

TV Ads

Marrou ads have already run on network affiliates in Chicago and New Hampshire!

Media

Our candidates have already appeared on MacNeil/Lehrer, CBS Nightwatch, and CNN!

Polling

The New Hampshire Manchester Union-Leader conducted a poll of its readers, and Marrou came in second (after Bush) and ahead of all the Democrats!

Ballot Access

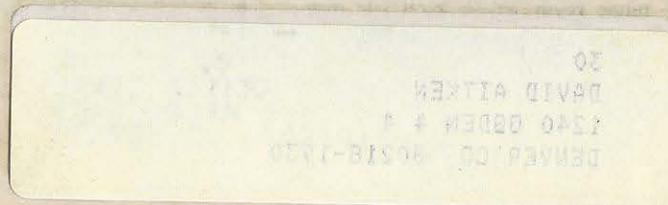

Our ticket is already qualified in 27 states. Petitioning is going on in Arizona, Indiana, and South Dakota. The LP plans to be on the ballot in all 50 states and D.C. in 1992!

How You Can Join the LP's 1992 Campaign

- 1. Help get Andre Marrou and Nancy Lord on the ballot in Colorado. We've already started collecting petition signatures, but we need to collect thousands more. Whether you collect 20 signatures from your friends and neighbors, or join the volunteers who are going out to get hundreds, every petition page helps. Call the CLP office at 303-837-9393 to get blank forms, or make your own using the copy on page 3. We need to get this job done soon so the real campaign work can begin!
- 2. Join the Libertarian Party. If you're not already a dues-paying member, now is the time to join! Use the form on page 4 to sign up as both a national and state member at the special combination rate – subscriptions to both the national LP News and the CLiPboard are included – and you'll be helping the LP campaign for freedom here and nationwide.
- 3. Be a candidate yourself in 1992. Yes, you! We need candidates at all levels, from county to Congress. By running for office with Andre and Nancy in 1992, you can help reinforce their message and present Libertarian solutions to state and local problems at the same time. Come to the candidate's meeting to be held Sunday, 10 November, 2pm, at 1090 S. Wadsworth in Lakewood. And call Ron Bain at 303-321-6780 to find out more about what the CLP can do to help you be a candidate.

From the Chair

Evidently, this "third party" idea is catching on.

The 1992 election appears as though it will have a slew of minor party contenders vying for third place. At this point, the Libertarian Party is not on the brink of being dethroned from that spot, but there are some folks that we should keep an eye on.

If you haven't heard about them yet, soon you will be hearing a little noise-making from the U.S. Taxpayers Party. Led by Howard Phillips out of Washington, D.C., the Taxpayers Party is waving as its banner the increasingly popular rally of tax limitation. At the August Lincoln Group meeting, chaired by John Andrews of the Independence Institute, the attendees were treated to a teleconference with Mr. Phillips. He gave us a fifteen minute soliloquy on the virtues of his new movement: tax limitation, conservative economics, a balanced budget, and an active use of the executive veto. Virtually all at the table nodded with approval -- so far, so good. But then Phillips started digging his hole, outlining the rest of his party's platform. To be brief, he rattled on about the "immorality of homosexuality", evil communists (and other McCarthyist drivel), an absolute "no-choice" stance on abortion, and how his party is based on "constitutional and biblical foundations." This is when I started to feel faint.

Then it was time for questions. I'm afraid mine were pointed. "Though I find your economic policies attractive," I said politely, "I find your party's stance on social issues nauseating. Mr. Phillips,

There was a long pause, then he replied, "Well... what do you think it is?"

"Absolutely nothing."

"Well... we'll be running candidates...".

My point exactly.

So I don't think we're going to lose too many Libertarians to the Taxpayers Party. But there is a good chance that they will attract economically conservative Republicans frustrated with their own party's lack of restraint with the national budget, and those Republicans whose beliefs in personal freedoms lie just to the right of Attila the Hun. Believe me, they're out there. They will be drawn to the Taxpayers Party if Phillips minimizes their agenda on personal liberties (which he is doing). Many of you probably read John Andrews' "Perspective" column in the Denver Post September 22., basically giving a glowing report on the Taxpayers Party. Do you remember him outlining social issues? No -- because he didn't. When John Andrews ignores such basic constitutional violations as a theocratically based government, we can know we're going to have a bit of a struggle in baring the truth.

So keep up the good work, keep up our fine principles, and have faith that CONSISTENT advocacy of individual liberty will give us success. Remaining the third party may just take a little more work.

Yours in Liberty,

Mary Callan

P.S.: A few weeks ago I bumped into Senator Bob Schaeffer in the produce aisle of the supermarket. (Seems like an appropriate place to meet a politician...) "Politically correct" as he is, he grabbed my hand with familiarity and remembered my name easily. I asked him if he was working hard to keep our tax burden down, and he replied by telling me about the ELEVEN school reform proposals he was introducing during the special session. Sigh. Something is just not clicking here...

Beam me up, Scotty...

The Fully Informed Jury Amendment would require judges to tell juries that they have the right to judge both the law and the facts.

The state coordinator for the Fully Informed Jury Alliance has changed. Because of Jim Glennie's recent medical problems, he is no longer able to head up the FIJA movement here in Colorado. David Aitken has taken over those duties.

We are currently attempting to find sponsors in the state legislature for a constitutional referendum. Senator Jim Roberts has agreed to sponsor it in the Senate. At some point early next year, we may need people to testify at hearings down at the State Capitol. If you have the time and inclination to do this, please contact David Aitken.

More publicity is always welcome. David Aitken recently spotted two columns, one in Colorado Business Magazine on freedom of the press, the other in the Denver Post on Petey Garcia's mom (should she be tried for child abuse?), which warranted a response mentioning FIJA. Even if his letters are not published, at least the recipient heard about FIJA.

Proposed addition to Article II, Section 23 of the Colorado Constitution

"Whenever government is a party in a trial by jury, the jurors must be informed that in addition to their responsibility to judge the facts in the case before them, they have an inherent right to judge the law and its application."

If you need more information on FIJA or would like to volunteer, please call David mine were pointed. "Though I find your economic policies attractive," I said politely, "I find your party's stance on social issues nauseating, Mr. Phillips. Besides the intention of running candidates for office, what is the difference between your party and the John Birch Society?"

Colorado was well represented at the national LP convention in Chicago. Besides nominating Marrou and Lord, the convention elected Mary Gingell as national Chair, Steve Dasbach as Vice-Chair, Joe Dehn as Secretary, and Bill Redpath as Treasurer. Delegates from Region 1, which includes Colorado, elected Dave Schumacher of Denver (standing, 2nd from left) as their representative on the Libertarian National Committee.

they have an inherent right to judge the law and its application."

If you need more information on FIJA or would like to volunteer, please call David Aitken at 303-831-4334.

Volunteers Needed for Convention Committees

At its December meeting, the CLP Board of Directors will be appointing a chair and other members of committees for the annual convention to be held in April. Members who are interested in serving on either the Platform Committee or the Constitution and Bylaws Committee should call state chair Mary Callan, or plan to attend that meeting, Sun., 8 Dec., 2pm, at the CLP office.

Supreme Court Rules Against Heid and CLP

In a 6 to 1 decision issued on 7 October, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled that the Colorado Libertarian Party did not have the right to nominate Robin Heid for governor in 1990. Heid was selected at the CLP convention, but the Secretary of State refused to put his name on the ballot because he had not been registered as a Libertarian or independent for one year prior to the filing of his nominating petition, as required by CRS 1-4-801(1).

Although the Court acknowledged the existence of the constitutional rights asserted by the CLP, it concluded, without requiring the state to show any actual danger that was being prevented, that the "state's compelling interest in maintaining a fair election process" justified such a regulation. Justice Quinn filed a dissenting opinion, saying that more weight should have been given to CLP members' right to freedom of association.

This decision means that nobody who was still registered as a Democrat or Republican as of this August (one year prior to the petition deadline) will be eligible for nomination as a Libertarian in the Nov. 1992 election.

PRESIDENTIAL NOMINATING PETITION

How to Use this Petition Form

1. Take this page to a copy shop that has a copier with 8 1/2 x 14 paper.

2. Make a test copy to be sure that the petition image is placed properly, and that the copy is clear. You will probably have to use a lighter than normal setting to prevent the printing on the back page from showing through.

3. Make several copies for you and your friends and neighbors to circulate. Each circulator must have his or her own copy.

4. Place a copy of the petition on a clipboard or other hard surface to make it easy to write on.

5. Start by asking your neighbors, coworkers, friends, and relatives to sign.

6. All signers must be registered to vote in Colorado, but they do not have to be Libertarians, or make up their minds now to support our candidates —

State of Colorado Nominating Petition

To the Honorable Natalie Meyer, Secretary of State: We, the undersigned electors of the state of Colorado hereby make the following nominations for the General Election to be held on the 3rd day of November, 1992, with the designation

LIBERTARIAN

Andre Marrou for President

Nancy Lord for Vice President for presidential electors:

David Aitken, 1240 Ogden Street, #4, Denver, CO 80218

Kim Benham, 203 E. Heritage Ct., NBU-81, Fruita, CO 81521

George Callan, 1091 Sundering Drive, Ft. Collins, CO 80526

Natalie Dehn, 11445 San Joaquin Ridge, Littleton, CO 80127

Mary Margaret Glennie, 1317 Lakewood Drive, Ft. Collins, CO 80521

Richard A. Shaw, 8930 Prickley Pear Circle, Parker, CO 80134

Carol Steinheimer, 1641 Garfield Street, Denver, CO 80206

Patricia A. Via-Hamburger, 627 Skyline Ave., Colorado Springs, CO 80905

We appoint the following persons as a committee to fill any vacancy in this nomination:

Ron Bain, 1450 Adams Street, Denver, CO 80206

David Bryant, 520 S. Corona Street, Denver, CO 80209

Mary E. Callan, 966 Shire Court, Ft. Collins, CO 80526

Joseph W. Dehn III, 11445 San Joaquin Ridge, Littleton, CO 80127

Rob Herzfeld, 518 Yucca Drive, Colorado Springs, CO 80906

not have to be Libertarians, or make up their minds now to support our candidates – this is just to allow the Marrou/Lord ticket to appear on the ballot.

7. After you have some signatures, take your petition sheet to a busy place, such as in front of a public building, or a shopping area. (If it is on private property, be sure to abide by whatever rules the owners or management have established.) Remember to bring black ball-point pens and a couple of extra copies of the form.

8. Ask people politely if they are registered to vote in Colorado, and, if so, ask them to sign. Be sure that they fill in all parts of the line, including both city and county, completely.

7. When you have filled a sheet (and not before!), you must sign the section at the bottom in the presence of a notary. (You can probably find a notary at your bank.)

8. Return all completed sheets to the CLP office at 720 E. 18th Avenue, Denver, CO 80203, as soon as possible. We want to get this done!

From the Denver Chair

Dear Fellow Libertarians,

This is an exciting time for Libertarians. Interest in the party is high, locally and nationally. The coming presidential campaign year should bring more interest and exposure for Libertarianism. I am fortunate to have been elected chair of the Denver Libertarians during this time of political momentum. I would like to see a bigger and better Libertarian presence in Denver. The Denver Libertarians hope to establish educational and outreach programs in Denver that will continue past the election, improving our image in the community and continuing to build the party.

We can no longer sit quietly on the sidelines. We must fight to regain lost freedoms and protect those we have remaining. Libertarians can and should contribute to local and national issues. As always, we have to work to be heard.

I am looking forward to the challenge of the next year and welcome your ideas and involvement.

For Liberty,
Jan Duncan
