Choose; How She Gives Birth

Maternal and infant mortality rates have increased in the United States with the exception of midwives who have maintained consistently excellent ratings. Midwives provide the most cost-effective solution and the widest range of autonomy for birthing families. They also offer personalized care, which results in better outcomes.

While Healthcare costs continue to soar, having your baby in the care of a midwife can save you up to 80%! All while having longer hours of care and a more personal relationship with your healthcare provider.

Insurance reimbursements have dropped following the ACA, which is causing more medical providers to accept cash only. This makes for fewer resources to a pregnant woman, especially in rural areas where midwives are rising to the occasion. There is also an increase push for national standards, which would result in a monopoly in midwifery.
